Tom Edge Named Northern Kentucky Water District General Counsel and Manager of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory Affairs

Erlanger, KY – The Northern Kentucky Water District is pleased to announce the addition of Tom Edge as General Counsel and Manager of Legal, Compliance, and Regulatory Affairs. Tom will begin his employment on January 1, 2021 and replace Alex Mattingly who has served in the role for the past three years. Until Alex starts his new position as the Crestview Hills City Administrator in February, Tom and Alex will work together to ensure a smooth transition for the Northern Kentucky Water District.

“The Management Team and I look forward to Tom joining the Northern Kentucky Water District as our new General Counsel,” President and CEO Ronald Lovan said. “He brings many years of legal experience and expertise in several areas of law.”

Tom currently maintains a private law practice in Newport while serving as an Assistant Campbell County Attorney and as City Attorney for the City of Dayton. Tom has also provided legal services to several cities throughout Kentucky and his clients also include several small businesses in Northern Kentucky.

Tom holds an undergraduate degree from American Military University, a master’s in business administration from American Public University and a law degree from Northern Kentucky University Chase College of Law. Tom resides in Edgewood with his wife, Tara and they have one child, Royce.
